Being a firm believer in sending flowers while the recipient can still smell them, I'm starting this column with a typographical bouquet for Norman Waltrip, a bus operator who works RTD line 55. It seems that an official of North American Aviation walked off and left some very important papers in Mr. Waltrip's bus. On finding the papers, Waltrip recognized the apparent value of them and took prompt steps to return them to the owner. Good work, Norman; it's men like you that make bus riding a pleasure.

Attention, all you sports fans: College football is here. Nine big exciting home games to look forward to in the Los Angeles Coliseum. Speaking of the Coliseum, did you ever see such organized confusion as the parking situation around that place? I've seen better organized riots. Now the smart way to go to the game is on the bus; why fight traffic when they pay the bus driver to get ulcers? Seven RTD lines take you to the Coliseum. The 5-6-18-41-49-51 and 95. With all this service and the new improved 5c transfer you just can't miss.

Q. I was recently transferred by my company, from New York to Redondo Beach. I would appreciate the map you mentioned and I have this question: How do they compute the fares on RTD buses? They are so much different than New York, P.B.

A. Welcome aboard, RTD uses a zone system because of the vastness of the area served. The basic fare is 30c and additional zones are 8c each. If you ride regularly to work you might want to consider the monthly pass. It permits unlimited basic fare riding for $12.00 a month.

Q. We live in the Palos Verdes Hills and employ a maid. Rather I should say we employ maids; because it is difficult to get them and more difficult to keep them. Transportation is the biggest problem. Is there any bus service in this area? Mrs. V. W.

A. There are no bus lines in the Palos Verdes Hills because there is very little demand for the service. As for your maid problem, I am experienced in dishwashing and am available for weekends and holidays.

Q. What kind of bus service is available at the International Airport? Mrs. Valdez.

A. Several lines serve the airport, Mrs. Valdez. RTD has three lines; the 51, the 100 line and the local 4 line. Line 51 serves the beach area, Redondo Beach, Hermosa Beach and Manhattan Beach to the west, and downtown Los Angeles to the east. Line 100 runs along Century Boulevard serving the South Gate area, Watts, and Inglewood. The Inglewood local 4 line serves the immediate area. Bus stops for these buses are located in the islands directly in front of the airline ticket office.

Q. With bus fares representing a sizeable item in my budget, is there any way I can save money on my transportation costs? Joe E.

A. Get a pencil or cut this out. Joe; it could be extremely useful to you. RTD has several discount plans. First, they sell commuter cards, offering a 5% discount on 10 rides, the monthly pass, unlimited single zone riding for $12.00 a month. Then they have a shoppers pass, for persons wanting to shop in downtown Los Angeles, 10 rides for 35c. The 5c transfer, good for several stops over. The student privilege card; 40 to 50% off on school travel; persons under 21 can buy this. Knowing what line to ride and the fare structure can help a great deal also. Let me know your address and place of employment, maybe I can offer further suggestions.

Send your questions to transportation editor, Artie Dee, care of this newspaper. All questions will be answered in this column or by mail. A system map will be sent to each person submitting a question or call 787-4465 for detailed information.

Law in Action

Some insurance policies — auto, life, and liability — cover losses only if they occur by "accidental" means. Unexpected, sudden, and unforeseen. Some policies spell out what such coverage is.

In a recent case Oscar Jones' auto policy would pay him for car damage by "accidental" means, but not for "mechanical breakdown." Oscar gassed up his car, and the station attendant checked under the hood. He did not fasten the radiator cap and all the water boiled out. Oscar's motor overheated and burned. He had to buy a new motor for $50. Worse, his insurance company refused to pay. It said that the damage was due to a "mechanical breakdown" not accidental means.

WHEN OSCAR sued, the court ruled for him and made the insurance company pay. It said the loss was by an accident. It was unexpected, unforeseen, and involuntary.

In another case, the Ajax Drug Company had a policy to protect its customers from accidental injuries in its store. A customer wrote a check which bounced, and the store had her arrested. When it turned out that the customer was not at fault, she made a claim against the store for malicious prosecution. But the court ruled that the insurance policy only covered the store and the customer from accidents, not from intentional malicious acts. Ajax had to stand the liability.

MANY LIFE insurance policies pay double indemnity when death is by "external, violent, and accidental" means. In one case, Mr. Drinkwater, usually a teetotaler, drank too much alcohol, slowing the reflexes in his throat. He choked and died. The court ruled that his choking was an accident for which his widow could recover double indemnity.

Usually death caused by a disease or long illness is not accidental. But a heart attack after sudden exertion, exposure to disease, or illness after an accident, sometimes, or freezing can sometimes be tied in with an accident and thus be covered by double indemnity clauses.
